

I think overturning the Do Not Call Law would be a mistake. It would greatly infringe upon our quality of life if it is overturned. Our quality of life has so improved since participating in this program. We are no longer receiving unsolicited phone calls at all hours of the morning, night and especially during dinner. Now we are free to focus on our family and not be interrupted during dinner, homework, etc. If businesses are allowed to prohibit solicitors, as so many do, why shouldn't we as tax paying citizens be free to do the same? If I want to do business with a particular company there are a plethora of means for me to find them and contact them - they should not be allowed to invade my home uninvited. Thank you.
